

THIRTY FIRST YEAR

LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 27, 1920.

NUMBER 11.

THREE CANDIDATES

Plead Their Cause Before the Citizens of Garrard county for Democratic Nomination For Congress.

Last Monday, county court day, being an ideal day for the farmer to catch up with his work, brought out only a small crowd, as a result only about 200 people heard the three Congressional candidates plead their cause at the court house last Monday afternoon.

However the small audience didn't seem to dampen the ardor of either and each speaker was accorded undivided attention and at times hearty applause. It being Judge Ralph Gilbert's appointment, he was the first speaker, thirty minutes time being allotted each, with a ten minutes rejoinder, should anyone desire it.

Prof. H. V. Bell, of Lawrenceburg, was chosen as chairman and kept the time for the speakers.

Judge Gilbert, the first speaker, was introduced by Rev. Strother of the Baptist church, who is an old friend of Judge Gilbert and who vouched for his character.

Judge Gilbert stated that while a practicing lawyer, he was also a farmer and was a grower of tobacco and corn and familiar with the farming interests; that while he was not in favor of class legislation of any kind, he felt that there should be greater cooperation between the Government and the farmer because that which helped the farmer helped everybody.

He declared in favor of the National Prohibition Amendment and the Volstead Act enforcing it. He stated that under the Amendment to the Constitution, the States had given Congress power to control the liquor situation and that if Congress permitted beers and wines to be sold they could be sold in Lancaster and every cross-road in the United States and the local authorities would be powerless to prohibit it.

He stated that there is an organization of ex-brewers and distillers, with unlimited means, of which James W. Harriman, President of the National Bank of New York, is president, which is attempting to repeal the Volstead Act and with the ultimate aim of invalidating the National Prohibition Amendment; that the Amendment itself was valueless without legislation by Congress to enforce it; that the amendment would be a dead letter like the Anti-pass Constitution of Kentucky was for twenty-five years until legislation was passed enforcing it; that any man who said that the Eighteenth Amendment settled the liquor question, was either uninformed or trying to fool somebody.

He also announced in favor of the League of Nations. In conclusion, he referred to his opponents as two old bachelors, marriageable and prominent who would not have their mind on legislation if sent to Washington but as they had never found a girl in the Eighth District good enough for them to marry, that they would never find enough votes in it to beat him.

In his rejoinder in answer to Col. Rip's suggestion that if the Democratic platform contained a wet plank that would eliminate Judge Gilbert, he, Judge Gilbert, said that if the Democratic platform of the San Francisco Convention, did contain a wet plank that he would support it and vote for the nominee willingly, but that he felt that other men would be better fitted to lead the fight in that event and that he would not ask to lead the Democratic ticket as its nominee for Congress on a wet platform.

The next speaker was George T. Davis, who proved to be quite an orator and a very fluent talker. He disclaimed that he was running on his record as a private soldier, but exclaimed that he would not exchange the experience that he received from a private standpoint for any officer, and while in the service he would have blacked the shoes of Capt. King Swope or Col. Frank Rip, had been ordered to have done so, but now he had them just where he could give some orders himself, and before the primary was over, both Gilbert and Rip would have to take a back seat and before the final election, in November, he would have the scalp of King Swope dangling to his side. He referred to Swope, as a "post card edition" and thought that he could be easily eliminated in November if the democrats would just give him the nomination. He said his platform contained three planks, "Justice, Freedom and Equality." His talk as a whole contained possibly more oratory than argument, but it was well received and made him votes.

The next and last speaker was Col. Frank Rip, of Lawrenceburg, who was very gracefully introduced by "Billy" Miller, ex-soldier.

Colonel Rip launched right into his subject and said he was glad indeed to speak to a Garrard county audience, many of whom he had met personally since the beginning of his canvass here several weeks ago. Touching on the prohibition question first he said:

"A question which has engrossed the attention of the people of this country, is that of prohibition—but that is a dead issue now having been settled by State and Federal amendment, and if we are to be a law abiding people, the manufacture and the sale of liquor is at an end.

"Democrats who have been for prohibition and Democrats who have been against prohibition," he said, "are united now, with this question not before them. For the sake of harmony and democratic success in November, it should not be reopened."

"When the Democratic platform is written at San Francisco, in June," said Col. Rip, "I want the democrats of the Eighth Congressional district to know that I am going to be scolded back of that platform, and go into every part of my district and ask the people to support it, no matter what it is." "Judge Gilbert has announced that he is for prohibition, and my other opponent, Mr. Davis, has said that he is for 'light wines and beer'."

"Now when the platform is written," continued Col. Rip, "either Judge Gilbert or Mr. Davis cannot support it or be eliminated from this race." "If the question remains as it is, Mr. Davis can not stand on the Democratic platform and if a wet plank is written therein, Judge Gilbert will necessarily have to take back what he has proclaimed all over the district, or be eliminated from the race."

"Why not, my friends, for the sake of party success, wait until the party has spoken in that convention and then without embarrassment to candidate or party, be able to go forth and preach its gospel to all the people. Judge Gilbert has already seen that he is defeated for the nomination for Congress and in order to bolster up his sinking ship, has injected a dead issue into the campaign and as his ally he has a Republican newspaper—the Lexington Leader."

Col Rip briefly reviewed the wise legislation the Democratic party had promulgated, since it came into power seven years ago, and said it was more than the Republicans had done during the past fifty years. He made a strong plea for the re-election of Senator Beckham, and predicted his nomination without opposition and severely rebuked Mr. Davis for his attack on the Senator, saying, "this was no time for partisan politics and petty quarrels and urged that we present a united party and elect a Democratic Congress and President in November."

The only mention made by Col. Rip of his war record, was when he said "My regiment was composed of the flower of the young manhood of Kentucky and the nation. You instructed your sons to my care in the World's war. How well I kept that sacred trust, you may ask those who came back home. With those priceless possessions under my charge in the turbulent days of war, I feel sure, my friends, that you know in these days of re-adjustment, if I will send me to Congress I will represent you faithfully, honestly and conscientiously and to the best interests of the entire district."

A tip on Buying Tickets

A lady went to a show with her 11-year old son. She handed up the money to the ticket seller and asked for a ticket and a half.

"Lady," he said giving them the once over, "you'll have to buy a whole ticket for that boy. He has on long pants."

"So you sell tickets by the length of pants?"

"Yes'm."

"Well, hand 'em over. I'm not getting the whole ticket for the kid."

Right behind was an old colored woman. "Lawdy, boss," she exclaimed, "heah' whar I gits in fuh nuthin'—Hopkinsville New Era.

SANDERS BROTHERS

Buy Perkins Farm On Lexington Pike.

$100,000 Deal Made By J. I. Hamilton

Does diligence and perseverance bring a SURE REWARD? About twenty years ago, Mr. Thomas Sanders died and left some boys way down on the Kentucky river. Old men were asked at the time, "If they could get by and could they live," they would shake their heads, and say, "I'm afraid not."

But they "hit the trail," unnoticed, unassisted, reached out, began to pick up some land. It was then that the men with blue lips etc., past fifty years, said: "Looks like they are going to make it, that's wonderful." Yes, they relied on their own judgment, developed their will, instead of allowing it to perish for want of exercise, and it was at this time that their bank account began to strengthen.

Instead of the people wondering if these orphans would live, are now asking each other, "how much are they going to have?"

They bought land and added to the widowed mother's dower, came on out a little farther, bought a brick house on the Buckeye pike, tried their wings a little and sailed down last Friday and bought the "Nick" Perkins farm on the Lexington pike, containing 250 acres, the best improved and the most fertile land between Lancaster and Lexington.

These boys, Angle T. and James I. Sanders, have had the nerve and have bought a farm costing over $100,000. Relatives nor friends need not be apprehensive, they won't ask anyone to endorse any paper for them.

Able to pay it! when, right now, and then have plenty of Aberdeen-Angus cattle, of the very highest breed, all registered, two herds of registered sheep, registered, high type Poland China hogs, these boys standing in the front ranks with the best breeders of the United States.

The English sparrow, in size, has caged the eagle. You fellows that don't understand this, borrow a dollar, and see, if you have never seen, this bird that Uncle Sam uses on his dollars as a trade mark. You fellows who tell your boys to "be mighty kerful," see what these boys have done without a pap, then ask yourself, whether a pap after he gets past sixty, is an asset or a liability.

A SALE 'WHAT IS'.

Bradshaw Brothers To Hold Big Aberdeen-Angus Sale.

Everyone now is beginning to talk of the big Aberdeen-Angus sale that Bradshaw Brothers are to "pull off" on June 16th, and they are using a half page advertisement in this issue of the Record telling the people in detail just what they propose to sell. Look on the fourth page of the second section and read it carefully. They are going to sell 42 head, all "top notchers" and the cream of the country. They figure that these 42 head of registered Aberdeen-Angus cattle will bring a total of $40,000 and will be mighty disappointed if they don't do it.

However if they don't bring even half this price they are going to sell them, so remember the date, attend the sale and pick up a bargain. The sale will be conducted near Danville on that splendid farm on Perryville pike which they have recently purchased.

Over the Top—Sure.

The quota of the Lancaster congregation in the Financial Drive of the Disciple World Movement was $3800.00. About $3950.00 has been pledged so far.

Dickerson Retires.

Mr. A. T. Scott and Son recently closed a deal with Mr. W. A. Dickerson for his entire stock of merchandise, possession being given last week. Mr. Scott will combine his store on Depot street and in a few weeks gets the room now occupied by J. E. Dickerson and Son, who will move to their new quarters adjoining Stornes Drug Store.

A. T. Scott and Son are carrying a large advertisement this week telling of the change and the many bargains he will have to offer to his patrons. Read it.

AMERICAN LEGION Hold District Meeting At Stanford.

Home Boys Cordially Greeted.

A district convention meeting of the American Legion was held at Stanford last Saturday and about twelve members of the Helical Sanford Post attended from here. They were given a cordial greeting by the Caswell Sausley Post of Stanford, as a result our local boys are very ardent in their praise of our neighboring post.

The following from Monday's Courier Journal gives this interesting article concerning the meeting:

"The 'dead line' between Stanford and Lancaster will vanish with Memorial Day services for American heroes of all wars.

Differences responsible for a near-fueled based on a hazy incident of many years ago, were composed Saturday at a legion meeting in Stanford, according to Emmet O'Neal, Louisville, national executive committee man, American Legion, who returned last night.

Because of feelings between youth of the two towns, the younger residents of each place, unless in force, kept on their own reservations for nearly a generation. An encounter at a dance, dimly recalled by older residents, is said to have generated this feeling.

However, throughout the years, though no serious clashes occurred, there were reports of rock-throwing and lively chases led by out-numbered factions, homeward bound.

Then the war came. Most of the young men of Lincoln and Garrard counties entered the service. On their return they became affiliated with legion posts—the Caswell Sausley in Stanford and the Helical Sanford in Lancaster, each named for one of the young men who did not come back.

Saturday, at the Stanford meeting, William F. Miller, adjutant of the Lancaster organization, announced that the "hatchet had been buried." It was true, according to Ben F. Jennings, the Stanford adjutant, who said a joint memorial service would be held May 30 at Lancaster, and all Lincoln County former service men would venture over into Garrard for the exercises."

CRAB ORCHARD SPRINGS

Opening Tuesday June 1st.

If you haven't been to Crab Orchard Springs recently, you may be shocked at the wonderful improvements that have taken place there within the past six months. Under the new management, with our own J. "Bott" Haselden in command, the entire grounds, buildings, etc., have been revolutionized and now the famous old health resort is a thing of beauty and so permanent are the improvements it bids fair to be a joy forever. Over $40,000 has been spent in improvements and judging from what has been done and with the extreme high cost of materials, one would wonder how so much could have been accomplished, even with $40,000. The annual opening will be next Tuesday and a dance that evening promises to eclipse anything ever attempted of this character in that neck of the woods. It will cost you nothing to look and very little to eat, although they have every delicacy of the season and much out of season if you insist on it.

Dies Suddenly.

Mrs. James Green, died suddenly at her home on the Danville and Lexington pike, Tuesday morning. She had been in good health apparently, and while sitting on the porch of her home, passed suddenly away. She was a member of the Pleasant Grove church. Services will be held there today, conducted by her pastor, Rev. Holder.

"Why Do the Wicked Live."

The subject of the sermon at the Christian Church next Sunday morning will be "Why Do the Wicked Live?" There will be no evening services on account of the Union Memorial Services at the School Auditorium. The other usual services, however, Sunday school and Young Peoples' Meeting will be held at the regular times, and the public is invited to come.

LIME IN BARRELS.
HUDSON AND FARNAU.

PROMISING Young Life Comes To Tragic End.

HUDSON FRISBIE MEETS DEATH BY DROWNING.

Community Shocked.

A pall that would not lift fell over our city last Saturday afternoon, when it was announced that Hudson Frisbie had just drowned in Dix river, below the dam of the Danville water-works, where he in company with Red Roberts, John Bright and several girls were members of a picnic party from Danville, which was spending the afternoon on the river.

Hudson, together with Roberts, had gone into the river just below the dam, where the rush of the water over the barrier, caused a dangerous whirl and undertow. He was caught in the undertow of the muddy water and immediately went under. It was then that Roberts sprang into the raging waters and swam to the rescue of the young man and succeeded in reaching him, but with the agony of a drowning person, young Frisbie clutched at Roberts hatching suit and tore a strip from the cloth, and then his body disappeared beneath the waves.

The sad accident happened about 4:30 in the afternoon and it was not until about 9:30 that night was the body recovered, although continuous efforts had been made by parties of volunteer searchers, with no avail. Many went into the water with ropes tied about their waists in an effort to recover the body and in hopes of saving the life by means of resuscitation. They were unable to accomplish anything in the rushing waters and were forced to come ashore, later recovering it by means of large hooks, weighted with large leaden balls, about fifty feet below the dam.

The body was brought to the home of his heart-broken parents Saturday night. Funeral services were conducted at the home on Monday afternoon by Rev. H. S. Hudson, assisted by Rev. E. H. Bourland.

The Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, of which Hudson was a member, had charge of the funeral at the grave, reading their memorial service, Prof. C. G. Crooks, of Centre College, an alumnus of the fraternity and N. O. Esrey, of the fraternity, conducted the services.

The floral offerings were the largest ever seen here, the designs practically covering the entire lot.

Hudson Frisbie was one of the most popular and lovable boys that ever lived in Lancaster. He graduated from the Lancaster High School last year and was a Freshman at Centre College when the tragic end came to his life that brought such universal sorrow.

He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frisbie of this city, just nineteen years of age, and the idol of his fond and devoted parents.

He was a dutiful son and a young man of splendid promise; the joy and pride of his home circle and an appreciated friend and companion among the younger people. His change came while he was still a student, fitting himself to enter upon life's sterner duties and wider fields of conquest, to which he was looking forward with good hope and courage. We know not what achievements of fame and earthly glory he has been denied or what sorrows and misfortunes he has escaped. We cannot forecast or read the contents of life by its horoscope, however bright; we only know that he has gone from our view; the hearts which cherished him are sore and empty; and that other hearts which have known bereavement respond to the sorrow of this loved one with tenderest compassion and sympathy. Like sorrows evoke like sympathies, preventing our hearts from becoming fallow to the higher and more generous emotions of our being.

Some one has called death a "bright thing with dreary name." If we could lift the edge of the curtain which divides us from those who have passed over, and see and understand the conditions on the other side; breathe the atmosphere and know the joy of that life beyond the stars, then indeed, might death be truly a "bright thing" by what ever name called.

"One short sleep past, we wake eternally.

And Death shall be no more: Death, thou shalt die."

Curiosity.

Mr. C. C. Barnett brought to this office a wooden lapping grown from a locust sprout. It is as near a natural one, as could be made by hand and is quite a curiosity.

CLOSING PROGRAM Graded and High School.

The closing exercises of the Lancaster Graded and High School promises this year to be an interesting one, rehearsals being held almost daily, preparing for the various entertainments, the first of which will be held next Saturday afternoon, May 29th. This will be a musical recital, under the supervision of Mrs. May Hughes Noland, and includes the piano department, assisted by the primary grades.

Next Monday night comes another musical recital, given by the piano department, Thursday night, June 3rd, the Japanese Operetta, entitled "Yanki San". Some splendid talent will be on this program, including some from most every grade in the school.

On Friday evening June 4th, comes the senior play, "Dorothy's Neighbors." The following is the entire program:

Saturday, May 29, 3:30 o'clock: Musical recital given by the piano department, assisted by the primer and primary grades.

Monday, May 31st, 8 o'clock: Musical recital, given by the piano department.

Thursday, June 3, 8 o'clock: Japanese Operetta, "Yanki San".

Friday, June 4th, 8 o'clock: Senior play, "Dorothy's Neighbors."

Sunday June 6th, 8 o'clock: Baccalaureate Address—Rev. J. E. Moss of Nicholasville Methodist church.

Monday, June 7, 8 o'clock: Commencement exercises in the School auditorium, address by Mr. George Colvin, superintendent of Public Instruction.

TWO BROTHERS Receive War Citations.

It is rather unusual that two brothers enlist from the same town, each go through the great world's war and each in different commands, should be honored with citations for exceptional gallantry.

Such is the case however, with two of our Lancaster boys, Messrs Stanley and J. Sterling Herron, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Herron of this city. Both of these boys volunteered their services during the war and both were soon sent to the front, each by their gallantry and extraordinary valor, receiving citations within the last few days from their Generals in command.

Stanley's being "for distinguished and exceptional gallantry" at Fleville, France, on October 6th, 1918. The citation was signed by John J. Pershing, Commander of the Expeditionary Forces.

Sterling's award of honor or citation came from General Petain, signed by him personally, being a French award, is just a little hard for us common folks to translate, but we do know that it was for exceptional bravery in a close conflict with the enemy, and he carries a wound today, received in the battle, for which he is now honored.

See Mount's adv.

Memorial Services

The Odd Fellows will hold memorial services at the Lancaster cemetery next Sunday afternoon, where the graves of the departed brothers will be decorated. Every member is urged to be at the hall promptly at 2 o'clock.

Sells Berea Lots.

Capt. W. T. King sold for the Master Commissioner of Madison some lots in Berea last Saturday for prices that seemed fabulous and even surprised the Captain. He says they sold like lots in Lancaster and that he could hardly keep up with the bidding.

Notice to The Public.

Owing to the advance in material, shoes, etc., we are compelled to raise the price of horse shoeing to $2. per round, including fours. We also wish to thank all our patrons for past patronage and solicit a continuance of same. Kelly and Vanhus.

Get Your Tobacco Fertilizer Now.

We have just received a carload of V C Superior Burley Tobacco Fertilizer—the kind best suited for Burley Tobacco land. The season is late and V. C. fertilizer used moderately, will mature your crop much earlier and make a brighter leaf. HUDSON AND FARNAU.

WORLD WAR

Cost 35,000,000 Lives.

London.—The total cost of the World War in lives has reached the appalling figure of 35,000,000, according to final estimates made by the Copenhagen society for the study of the consequences of the war, and made public recently.

These figures were reached after an exhaustive study of the decrease in the birth rates in the countries involved as well as increase in deaths from causes directly attributed to the war.

Actual military deaths in killed totaled 9,829,000, according to the report. Each European nation involved lost the equivalent of 8.8 per cent of its population from all causes. Each nation's actual killed equalled 2.5 per cent of its population.

Serbia was the heaviest sufferer of all the belligerents. She lost thirty-five per cent of her total population, while her actual killed equalled 14.8 per cent.

Letting George Do It.

In the opinion of the average foreign country America is one vast hive of agricultural industry.

They seem to think that all they have to do is to ask and we will hand over the food.

America has been generous in the past in dividing its food supply with Europe, even when we had to deny ourselves to do it. But the war is over and war conditions and necessities no longer exist.

The American farmer is very short of help and crop outlooks are not of the best, according to published reports.

Experts predict a shortage of food-stuffs next winter, with the possibility of bread and soup lines in the cities of our own country.

If this should happen Europe can not expect us to meekly hand over the food we need to sustain life among our own people.

Exporting profiteers would of course take advantage of the situation and send food to Europe at enormous gains to themselves. But the public will not have it so. If such is attempted the roar of protest will be long and deep and will engulf any person who attempts to starve American women and children for the sake of selling to Europe at great personal profit.

America asks neither alms nor favors from any country.

We are ready to relieve distress across the water when conditions and humanity permit, but we are not willing to send our own people to bed hungry in order to do it.

Europe can work and produce if it will. It should quit piddling and squabbling and cultivate that will.

"Letting George do it," doesn't appeal strongly to us, especially when we are expected to make ourselves a universal and perpetual George.

SHE FEELS FINE NOW

Aches and pains often indicate kidneys out of order. Your kidneys surely need help—and quickly—when your hands or feet are swollen and you feel dull and sluggish, lose your appetite and your energy and there is a puffy look under the eyes. Mrs. L. Gibson, 12th and Edison St., La-Junta, Colo., writes: "My kidneys were giving me a great deal of trouble for some time. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me right away. I feel fine now."

Use your head in all things—your tongue in a few.

Back To The Farm.

Is the tide beginning to turn? Young men in some of our big cities are yearning for an opportunity to get onto the farms, and the press is advising such a course.

The wild assiduity and profligate spendthrift of the cities is palling upon them.

They prefer the freedom and greater security of country life, even if the hours are a little longer and the work a little harder.

They have come to realize that their earnings in the city are eaten up in the profiteering prices now being charged for everything they buy, both essentials and luxuries.

They see nothing ahead of them but a ceaseless repetition of earning it today and spending it tomorrow.

Having brains, they are beginning to employ them to advantage.

And being but a little cog in a big wheel in the cities, they would migrate to the country, where there is room and opportunity for all.

A national campaign for repopulating the farms of the country is one of the prime requisites for a return to commercial stability.

It requires food to keep soul and body together, and food can only be produced where there are men to do the work.

One of the most delightful of the social events of the season was the "Old Fashioned Party" given by Mrs. R. I. Burton last Thursday afternoon. For the occasion the home was prettily decorated with red geraniums and narcissus. About 30 guests were present and each was asked to make a rhyme about how to reduce the H. C. L. and to wear a "calico" dress. During the afternoon music was enjoyed, also a "guessing contest", the "Medical Trunks". Mrs. E. W. Perkins, Mrs. J. Hogan Ballard, Misses Zillah Dawes and Mayme Ballard, having all the answers correct drew for the prize, Mrs. Perkins being the winner was presented with an attractive apron. Refreshments of red lemonade, ginger cake and peppermint stick candy were served. Mrs. Burton was an ideal hostess and each one had a most delightful time. Among the guests from a distance were Misses Roberts and Giltner of Wilmore, and Mrs. Forrest Stapp of Lancaster. All looked most attractive in their "calico" frocks.

Make Your Home

a Cheerful Home

You can't expect folks to be happy and contented where the home is in half-darkness and permeated by the smell of smoky lamps. Every member of your family is entitled to all the bright electric light which city folks have. If somebody asked you to buy an expensive plant that simply furnished light and no more, you might have some good arguments against such a purchase, but when you think of a lighting plant that is also a plant capable of operating any and every small machine on your place, that is another matter.

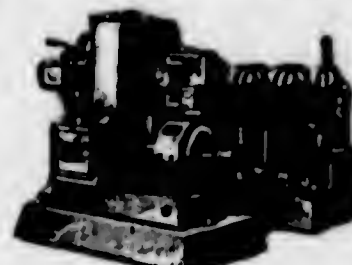

Genco Light

Is such a plant. In addition to being a perfect electric lighting plant, it has a pulley by which machines can be run while charging your batteries. When this is done, your lights cost practically nothing. Genco Light is such a positive labor saver that owners figure that this power practically takes the place of farm help. It certainly does enable the help to do more; or less help to do the same work. Genco Light is not a luxury—it is a servant that will increase production and pay for itself in actual dollars and cents. You really owe it to yourself to call here with your wife and see this wonderful plant at work. May we expect you?

Many persons with a few hundreds or thousands of savings are looking around for opportunities for investment. There are thousands of such opportunities, but many of them are far from safe.

The daily press is full of offers of mining stocks, municipal and building bonds, and other forms of investment. Some of these are unquestionably safe and desirable, while others are far from it. The difficulty is to tell the good from the bad.

The country is making feeble and spasmodic efforts to recover from its orgy of price inflation and spending, with but indifferent success.

If a panic or a severe stringency in the money market overtakes us, as many think will be the case, these stocks and bonds may suffer serious shrinkages in value or become scraps of paper upon which the holder finds it difficult to realize.

Local citizens who are looking for investment might do well to leave their money in bank yet a little while longer, until the price of these securities comes down.

Investing at the maximum of inflation is a hazardous jump in the uncertain regions of finance.

It will leave many scars before we return to a rational standard of values.

The editor is popularly supposed to see everything, hear everything, know everything and publish everything that is going on.

But sometimes he doesn't see it—doesn't want to see it—because, being an editor and trained to weigh all angles of every question, he knows that it is better for the community if he does not see it.

There are many things the editor does not publish because they contain no element of news, are distressing to many innocent people, and their publication could serve no good purpose.

Sometimes the editor is criticised for his forbearance, but at least some of his critics do not stop to remember that possibly the paper is just as forbearing regarding an incident or two of their own lives.

There are many things to be considered before putting it in cold type.

A Washington dispatch recently credited the Department of Justice with saying that six hundred million dollars will be taken from the people this year in sugar speculation alone. Does it jar you? It shouldn't.

Six hundred million dollars in a paltry sum, too insignificant to cause even mild surprise. Of course, if some one should steal a chicken, or a slab of bacon, or something else worth while, we Americans would immediately demand punishment adequate to the enormity of the crime.

But six hundred million dollars in sugar speculation? Too trifling for consideration—only chicken feed for a day.

But if sugar becomes prohibitive in price there is yet good that will result from a seeming evil. We will eat less and feel better.

We Americans are not so robust physically as were our forefathers before us. They ate a little sugar and we eat much.

And besides, if we men are denied the luxury of sugar it will only cement our fondness for that which is even sweeter—our wives and our daughters and our babies.

Many people have been disturbed recently over the practical breakdown of the transportation system of the country.

Conditions became so deplorable that the railroad executives petitioned to Interstate Commerce Commission to assume charge and regulate the traffic of the country, as was done during the war by the federal government.

The shortage of cars and the congestion in rail transportation is said to be one of the prime causes of the high cost of everything.

Of course, if the railroads are unable to properly distribute the food of the country many people will not be able to eat. They may even die.

But why should those people worry over the possibility of a little thing like death?

We are taught that there is another world where sorrow and hunger and poor transportation facilities are unknown, and it doesn't require a railroad ticket to get there.

Should anyone grieve at a change of residence that is all to the good, even if that change should be hastened by inadequate rail transportation?

And can you imagine the good Lord being so inconsiderate as to send a person to hell on an empty stomach?

GET TOGETHER DAYS.

This town should have some definite scheme for getting the people together oftener than has been done in the past.

A clique ridden town seldom prospers to any great extent. There is too much pulling of one clique against another, with the result that but little of a constructive nature is ever accomplished.

If we could have a Get Together Day once a month it would produce beneficial results. It would lessen the breach between the cliques and have a tendency to eradicate them entirely in time.

And with all cliques abolished we could pull together and to good purpose.

What say you, Mr. Man and Mrs. Woman?

Many people bitterly envy those who have accumulated great wealth. But they shouldn't.

A tick fastens itself upon a dog or a cow and sucks the blood of that animal until it becomes full to the point of bursting, and then drops off.

The man of great wealth absorbs the money of his victims until he becomes gorged to repletion, and then he, too, drops off. Death does the dropping and his wealth is spent by others.

Be thankful that you are human and not a tick, either of the financial or the blood variety.

Housewives who have been in the habit of canning their own fruit each year are not in a happy state of mind. With sugar at its present price they can not afford to do much canning, and if they can not do their own canning they must do without fruit or pay prohibitive prices for the commercial article.

But our dear ladies should be of good cheer, for to every cloud there is a silver lining.

They should be thankful that it is not worse, for not all of the crooks in the country have been able to take a grab at illicit profits in sugar.

And besides, is it not more blessed to give than to receive?

Did you ever hear of an optimistic pessimist? We're it, as you will see. Read on.

RESOLUTIONS

On The Death of Benjamin Hudson Frisbie

May 24th, 1920.

WHEREAS, It has pleased God in his infinite wisdom to take from us our beloved class mate and friend, Benjamin Hudson Frisbie, and

WHEREAS, we feel that we should make some expression of our sympathy for the bereaved family and friends; therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, That we, the student body of Centre College, do feel that we have lost a true friend and a congenial companion, and

BE IT RESOLVED, That in the time we have known him, brief tho it was, we have found him to be a man of irreproachable character and high Christian ideals; and finally

BE IT RESOLVED, That we wish to convey our heartfelt sympathy to his loved ones in their bereavement.

Woman Severely

Bitten By Dog.

Miss Lillian Shugars, residing on Third Street, was a patient at the Gibson hospital Friday, suffering from several lacerations on the hand and forearm as a result of having been bitten by a dog a few days ago. The dog is said to have been near the home of Miss Shugars when it attacked her. The injuries were not considered serious at the time, however, subsequent developments caused her to undergo the pasteur treatment. The dog, it is claimed, will be kept under surveillance for some time.—Richmond Register.

Don't wait for rheumatism to indicate diseased kidneys. When you suffer pains and aches by day and sleep disturbing bladder weakness by night, feel tired, nervous and run down, the kidneys and bladder should be restored to healthy, strong and regular action. It is a mistake to postpone treatment. Foley Kidney Pills put the kidneys in sound healthy condition and keep them active and strong. Begin taking today. Good results follow the first dose.

FEDERAL HIGHWAY

To Be High Type Road.

State Commissioner Boggs Plans So That Paved Road May Be Built Soon.

A dispatch from Frankfort tells of the meeting that the Federal Highway promoters had with State Board Commissioner Joe S. Boggs there last Tuesday. It said:

Plans to construct projects 16 and 25 of the new State highway system of permanent surfacing material were discussed here Tuesday with Governor Morrow and Joe S. Boggs, Commissioner of Public Roads, by a delegation from all the counties along the route.

The persons interested in the projects, instead of trying to withdraw the $500,000 raised for the work, are setting an example, as the Governor reviewed it, by proposing to let their contributions go into the construction and simply asking the State to appropriate the sum it would otherwise be required to and devote this to a more lasting type of road.

By coincidence the Federal aid project, extending from Harbysville, Hart County, on the Jackson Highway, through Green, Taylor, Marion, Boyle, Garrard and Madison counties, conforms the two new state highway projects. The residents had raised the money necessary and were preparing to obtain Federal aid when the new law was passed.

It then occurred to them that they were spending their money for a highway which the State eventually would build, and they learned from Commissioner Boggs that until the new law becomes operative no arrangements may be made for reimbursing counties for funds advanced for State Highway projects.

Commissioner Boggs told them, however, that where local aid is forthcoming, in his opinion, the commission will be inclined to initiate the work, and he suggested the plan which met with Governor Morrow's approval.

They will certify the amount they have raised and then get Federal Aid for the project. Then when the new commission comes in they will propose that the State add to the fund sufficient to pave instead of macedamize the road as was contemplated. By this means those counties will get for their money a first class permanent road and the state will get for the amount it would have spent on the projects, had local funds not been raised a high type of road which will reduce the maintenance cost.

CLOTHES

Cost 177 Per Cent More Than In 1914.

New York World.
Living cost in the United States, March 1, last, had increased 7 per cent since Nov. 1, 1919, a report yesterday by the National Industrial Conference Board shows.

Since July, 1914, the H. C. I. has leaped 95 per cent, the board reports, and within the last twelve months the increase was 21 per cent.

Between July, 1914, and March, 1920, food gained in price 100 per cent; clothing, 177 per cent; shelter, 49 per cent; fuel heat, and light, 49 per cent; and miscellaneous costs, 83 per cent.

The information upon which these estimates were based was obtained from a survey of a large number of retail dealers in foodstuffs and clothing and of brokers in touch with real estate conditions.

Mail Order Houses

Check Up Merchants.

Local merchants in localities where the mail order houses are pulling strongly, may well be reminded that these great trading mediums obtain most of their results from effective advertising; therefore the merchants must advertise adequately if they are to successfully meet the keen competition.

Sears-Roebuck & Co., have 200 girls employed in checking newspapers to ascertain the volume and kinds of advertising carried. In towns where the local store advertising is small, or otherwise unimportant, special campaigns are instituted, bundles of literature are distributed, etc.

It is an actual fact that the check-up system of Sears-Roebuck & Co., reveals that the business returns to the company from towns where the local advertising in the home papers is light, are very high when compared with the receipts from localities where the home merchants use large amounts of space.

The lesson is plain. The local merchants must fight with fire. They must fight mail order propaganda with home-town advertising. We all know that direct advertising is the best advertising in a merchandising campaign. Various self-styled "merchandising counsellors" assert that the mail order house catalogue is one of the best examples of direct advertising in existence. How can it compare with the use of space in a home town newspaper, where the dealer's goods and address are printed. The store is within easy reach, goods may be seen and inspected with the expenditure of a few minutes' time. This is the real direct advertising. It transfers an article from the dealer's show-case directly into the customer's pocket.

What "Pep" Is.

Vigor, vitality, vim and punch—
That's pep!
The courage to act on a sudden hunch—
That's pep!
The nerve to tackle the hardest thing. With feet that climb and hands that cling.
A heart that never forgets to sing—
That's pep!
Sand and grit in a concrete base—
That's pep!
Friendly smile on an honest face—
That's pep!
The spirit that helps when another's down.
That knows how to scatter the blackest frown.
That loves its neighbor and loves its town—
That's pep!
To say "I will"—for you know you can—
That's pep!

COL DAN M. SMITH

Is Greeted By Large Crowd.

The Presbyterian church in this city was filled to its limit last Thursday night to hear the great "Commander of Death" Col. Dan Morgan Smith. Col. Smith told of how proud he was that he was in Central Kentucky and also paid a beautiful tribute to Colonel Allen of Lexington, but at present Commander in chief of the A. E. F. in Germany.

Col. Smith was introduced by Bro. Hourland of the Christm church who referred to him as one of the great "Soldier Boys."

Col. Smith dwelt at length on "give them credit for what they have done" he said some of his best fighters were from Kentucky, and because a man didn't get across the Atlantic, not to say that he didn't see any service as he was just as much entitled to credit as the man who was fortunate enough to go.

He also told of his experiences at the front and some of the daring feats accomplished by his men. Col. Smith said "These men fought for the Constitution in time of war", now let's fight for it now in time of peace. He told in a very pretty manner the danger that was confronting the American flag and the Constitution and asked that all the 100 per cent Americans join in this fight against the terrors of whiskey.

The Colonel spoke at least two hours and the many and often applauds given him were proof enough that he was thoroughly enjoyed, he closed by paying a beautiful tribute to the work of the "American Legion."

To The Citizens of Lancaster, Ky.

Honorable Mayor, City Council and People of Lancaster, Ky:—

Whereas, the franchise now held by us is void by reason of being in conflict with the State Constitution, and

Whereas, we have no franchise for operating our plant in the City of Lancaster, Ky., because the same is void as aforesaid, the City Council of the City of Lancaster, Ky., and the public generally are hereby notified that we will on August 1st, 1920, or as soon thereafter as practical, move all our poles and electrical equipment from the streets of the city of Lancaster, Ky.

This notice is given as a legal notice, as we understand that reasonable notice must be given before we can remove said property and discontinue said plant.

We are willing to do anything we can to co-operate with the city in securing a franchise for the purpose of furnishing electric light and power to the citizens of the city, but we cannot continue it further without expensive additional equipment, and this we can not do at the present rates and without a legal franchise protecting us in our rights.

Dated this April 26th, 1920.
Respectfully submitted,

JAMES I. HAMILTON

Marshfield Is Interested

Postmaster Hamilton Is Disposing of Many Treasury Saving Certificates.

As the Postmasters and the public throughout the Eighth Federal Reserve District are becoming familiar with the liberal terms attached to the purchase of the United States Treasury Savings Certificates the sales increase.

In Marshfield, Webster County, Mo., down in the Southern part of the state, C. C. Hamilton, the postmaster has put in some effective hooks in disposing of the securities.

On May 6th he sent his first order for a $100 Certificate. The next day he did better and sent in an order for a $1000 Certificate. Then five days later, on May 12th, he forwarded another order for three $100 Certificates, and announced that he had run out of application blanks, and figured that he could use another 25 before the end of the month.

The postmasters are proving a tower of strength in helping the Treasury Department in getting these securities in the hands of the people, just whom it was designed by the Government to benefit when the campaign was inaugurated.

Your Home Town First.

By Dr. Frank Crane
Work for your home town.
Beautify it. Improve it. Make it attractive.

The World War and the Treaty of Peace and the Protective Tariff and all such things are important subjects; but what's the good of cleaning up the world unless you sweep your doorstep?

The city whose main street is dirty, sordid-looking, cluttered, uninviting, suffers much. Such a city wants to be cleaned made a thing of beauty, so people will come miles to see it.

The best advertisement of your business is the way you live in.

Towns get reputations, as well as men. Make your town talked of all over the State. It will thus draw people. And where the people come, there is prosperity.

It does not take money. It takes something that is scarcer. It takes cooperation.

Get together. Organize for civic improvement. Develop the civic nerve.

Rid your town of one eyesore after another. Clean up the vacant lots and plant them in gardens. Make a cluttered yard a disgrace. Make public opinion too hot for those who will not help.

It pays. It will promote law and order. It will help in the education of your children. It will draw factories and other business enterprises to your locality.

Shiftlessness, untidiness, dirt and selfishness, as shown in your streets and buildings, react upon your people.

Such things make your boys and girls grow up hating their home town.

Make your home town a children's paradise, something their memory will lovingly turn back to.

Look after your Amusements, your Parks, your Playgrounds, your Theaters, and all your other means of communal enjoyment.

Make your home town happy. It pays.

Snow Leopard Rare Animal.

On Broadway.

Little Miss Muffet, arose from her tuffet.

And started down Broadway. When she got to the corner, she met Jack Horner.

And they went to a cabaret. Old King Cole played the base viol. With the help of his fiddlers three, Boy Blue jagged on the slide trombone.

And they played in the key of G. Jack and Jill were on the bill. Their tumbling act was good.

A song about Grandma was then put on, by Miss Red Riding Hood. Little Annie Nettieote shimmied in her petticoat.

And danced around on her toes. A juggling stunt by Nimble Jack. Then brought the show to a close. Muffet and Horner stepped to the corner.

And hailed a gasoline gig. Jack borrowed a dollar from the Ten O'clock Scholar.

Then home again, jinkity jig.

Accounting Now Easy.

Women Budget Makers Now Have Ideal Account Book.

The University of Missouri has asked us to announce through the Women's Thrift Section that speakers on the subject of budget-making and account-making will be supplied to women's clubs, or other groups making requests, through the Agricultural Extension Service. This necessarily applies to clubs or groups of women within the State of Missouri.

In counties, where there is a Home Demonstration Agent, write direct to her. Otherwise write to the Agricultural Extension Service, University of Missouri, Columbia, or to this office.

There is no expense to the group asking this service, except that it is expected that the speaker will be entertained while in the town where she makes the address.

Tobacco Outlook

Bright—Cantrill.

WASHINGTON—That the report of the Census Bureau on the amount of tobacco in the hands of dealers and manufacturers, made public last week by the Department of Commerce under the provisions of the Cantrill Act, is, "in the main, encouraging to the growers of tobacco" was stated here by Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill. Continuing, Mr. Cantrill read:

"The report shows that of all types of tobacco in the United States, there are today 37,000,000 pounds less in the hands of manufacturers than there was a year ago, and, almost without exception, the stocks of every different type of tobacco are reduced below what they were a year ago. With special reference to the Burley type of tobacco, there are 5,000,000 pounds less in the hands of the dealers and manufacturers than there was April 1, 1919, and, so far as this particular type is concerned, there is every reason for encouragement for a good price this fall."

With Walt Mason.

I priced a pair of shoes today; I asked the price and went away. The dealer begged, in frenzied tones, that I would hand him twenty bones, and clothe my hoofs in shining kid, as other gorgeous spendthrifts did. "Nay, nay!" I said; "again, nay, nay!" I'll fall for no such graft today. I will not pamper my old feet, and make them think they're cute and sweet. I reared them in a frugal way, and I won't let them get too gay. If they wore shoes at such a price they'd soon be feeling too blamed nice, and they would look with high disdain on feet attired in leather plan." Then I went home and climbed the stair that leads up to the attic bare, where all the household junk's been thrown, for years whose number is not known. And there I found old shoes galore; a dozen pairs were on the floor, all lying in a straggling heap, thrown there in times when shoes were cheap. I had the cobbler fix the soles and sew a few unsightly holes, and now I've shoes enough. I won't, to last me till at last I'm shot. You see the moral very well; One way to beat the H. C. L.

BOY SCOUT WEEK COMING

Get Out Of Doors With The Boys.

As a part of its Tenth Birthday celebration the Boy Scouts of America will observe the week commencing Memorial Day, May 30th, and ending June 6th, nationally as Boy Scout Week. This will be a characteristically outdoor celebration and a program of outdoor activities will be carried out in the 17,000 and more communities where scout troops are in operation.

It would be impossible to estimate the tremendous impetus which the Boy Scout Movement has given to outdoor life and outdoor activities among American boys. During the ten years of existence in this country it has led tens of thousands of lads away from city streets and set them hiking, camping, following woodland trails, learning to know the trees and stars and birds by name, to find their way by night or day with or without a compass, to choose the best kind of camp site, to set up camp in the right way, to signal messages by semaphore from tower to tower or by heliograph from hill to hill, to build camp fires and cook their own meals over them.

They learn to think quickly, to observe accurately, to look out for themselves and others in ordinary occasions and in special emergencies. They are "prepared" in every sense, prepared to enjoy life to the utmost, to be clean, vigorous, healthy, fresh air animals. Probably more boys have spent more days and nights in the open air in the past ten years than in all the past history of this country since pioneer days—a fact very largely due to scout influence and training.

The activities of Boy Scout Week will include outdoor rallies, overnight hikes, barbecues, demonstration camps and competitions in outdoor Scouting features.

Sunday, May 30th, the opening day of the celebration will include special services in churches of all denominations, Scouts participating. Programs of Scouting activities will be carried out during the week, Friday, June 4th, will be observed as Hike and camp day and Saturday, June 5th, will be National Scout Field Day, with competitions in tent pitching, fire building, wall scaling, signalling, tower and bridge building and demonstrations of first aid and life saving.

The great objective of Boy Scout Week will be to give the scouts themselves a good time and to rouse the interest of the public in outdoor life and Scouting. The more people who can be induced to get out in the open with the Boy Scouts the better outlook for America. We started out a race of sturdy pioneers, let us follow the Boy Scouts back to the trail.

BEAUTY

Is Reflected Health.

"Good-Looking" Means the Opposite of Sick-Looking

IT'S A MATTER OF RED BLOOD CELLS.

Pepto-Mangan Makes Rich, Red Blood—Builds Up People Who Lack Vitality.

If your body is sound and your blood is rich and red, your acts and thoughts will be quick and strong.

Let your blood get weak, and your food won't nourish nor your sleep refresh you.

Too much hard work, an illness, or a mental strain can thin down your blood, and Pepto-Mangan is needed to bring it back to healthy, normal condition.

Knowing this, doctors for years have recommended Gude's Pepto-Mangan because of its blood-building and tonic properties.

Pepto-Mangan is such a simple and harmless tonic, yet such a prompt builder of red blood, that its reputation has spread all over the country. To-day every druggist sells it and thousands of men and women use it as a restorative whenever they or their children seem to feel below par.

Pepto-Mangan agrees with the most delicate stomach, and is obtainable in either liquid or tablet form.

Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package when you buy Pepto-Mangan. Ask the druggist for "Gude's". If "Gude's" is not on the package, it is not Pepto-Mangan. (Advertisement)

SPONSOR FOR THRIFT BILL.

Dr. Laughlin Has Long Been Interested in Measure Kentucky
Adopts.

Dr. S. O. Laughlin, Augusta, Ky., who fathered the bill requiring the teaching of Thrift in the Kentucky schools is a pioneer in advocating the teaching of this subject in the public schools.

Even before the government espoused the cause Dr. Laughlin had started it by having Thrift taught in the public schools of Augusta, where he was a member of the school board. When he was elected to the legislature, among his first acts was one introducing the Thrift Bill.

In advocating the passage of the bill, Dr. Laughlin gave an example of what such a law would do for the children by showing what had been done in the public schools of Augusta. He closed his argument by the statement that it would be the means of making many prosperous and tax-paying citizens.

A senator who voted on the bill arose to explain his vote and said: "Gentlemen, I want to say that the Thrift Bill is the most important and best bill we have voted on this session."

NEVER SAW ANYTHING BETTER

For colds that "hang on" and for lingering coughs that follow the "flu," there is one safe family cough medicine sold from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Mrs. A. B. Griffith, Box 154, Andrews, Ind., writes: "Last winter my family all had the 'flu.' I tried Foley's Honey and Tar and never saw anything better. From now on I will not be without it in the house." Don't let children suffer from croup or whooping cough when this reliable remedy can be so easily procured. —R. E. McRoberts, Druggist.

St. Louis Employees of Motor Truck Company Strong For Treasury Savings Certificates.

The big industrial establishments in St. Louis are taking mighty kindly to the plan of buying United States Treasury Savings Certificates on the installment plan.

One day last week the employees of the Traffic Motor Truck Corporation, 5200 North Second street, bought these Government securities to the extent of $15,000. The plant was visited by J. H. Sowerby and John H. Anderson, of the Savings Division of the St. Louis Organization, who addressed the men.

The sales were all for the $100 Certificate, and $2 per week will be reserved by the company from the salary of each worker and this will be applied to the payment of the certificate until it is fully paid, when it will be turned over to the subscriber.

The men were shown that the certificates would mature in five years and that the investment if held until maturity would yield 4.27 per cent, that they are registered and are to all intents and purposes non-taxable.

In all the large cities in the Eighth Federal Reserve District the installment plan is proving exceedingly popular, and in many of the smaller cities many of the securities are being sold on the same plan.

Price Cutting

Goes Merrily On.

Chicago.—Reports of price cutting in wearing apparel and miscellaneous merchandise continued to be received from various parts of the country. Department stores from New England to the Pacific Coast cities and the Mexican border, announced reductions ranging from 20 to 50 per cent. The price in shoes in some quarters was cut one-fifth, while a ready-to-wear establishment in Omaha offered its stocks from 30 to 50 per cent below market price.

FARM ANIMALS

POINTERS FOR BEEF GROWERS

One Method of Bringing Down Prices of Meat Is Improvement in Type of Animals.

General improvement in the type and quality of beef animals the country over is one of the means urged by the United States Department of Agriculture for bringing down the high cost of meat to the consumer and, at the same time, increasing the profit of the producer. Some of the most es-sentinal items in growing beef on the farm, specialists of the department say, are:

The Demand for Purebred Stock is Steadily Increasing.

Plenty of pasture and feed.
The right kind of cows—those that will produce good calves regularly.

A good, pure bred registered bull—one that will sire good calves persistently.

A large calf crop. This means that all cows shall drop calves, and that the calves shall be properly cared for at birth.

Proper care of the breeding herd and the calves.

Selection of good heifer calves to replace old or inferior cows.

Prevention of disease among the breeding herd and the younger stock.

Shelter sufficient to protect the cattle from both severe cold and extremely hot weather.

A practical knowledge of fattening cattle for market.

Marketing to advantage.

There is a farmer's bulletin, No. 1073, on growing beef on the farm that may be had free on application to the Division of Publication, United States Department of Agriculture.

HOGGING DOWN RYE UNWISE
Practice Is Unprofitable, According to Pork Production Tests at the Ohio Station.

Hogging down rye is an unprofitable practice, according to tests made in pork production at the Ohio experiment station. The tests show that it is generally more profitable to harvest the grain and sell it as a cash crop or to feed the grain to hogs after thrashing rather than to allow the hogs to harvest the grain themselves.

Specialists point out that the daily increase per pig when hogging down rye is generally less than half a pound and that the amount of grain required to produce 100 pounds of gain is much higher than where the grain is fed directly to the hogs. As a rule, about 611 pounds of rye, hogged down, were required to produce 100 pounds of gain, whereas hogs fed on corn with tankage and clover pasture required but 331 pounds of concentrates to produce the same amount of gain.

The unprofitableness of hogging down rye is attributed to the fact that hogs are either unable to secure rye in sufficient quantities or are inclined to eat only slightly more than is required for maintenance.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Hogging down corn pays.

Mud wallows are unsanitary and breed disease.

There is a tendency to feed too much roughage to horses.

Oats, especially for little pigs, should be ground and hulls sifted out.

The early lamb gets a larger supply of milk from the ewe than the late lamb does.

Water should be kept in the lot all the time. Never force hogs to drink from a stagnant pool.

Judge a sow by the size and vitality of her litter, as well as by her conformity to the breed type.

Young pigs cannot learn to eat too soon. They should be encouraged to eat when as young as three weeks of age.

A variety of crops are available for hog pasture, including the alfalfa, red clover, rape, Canada field peas mixed with oats and barley. Winter or hairy vetch is a valuable crop.

Ridiculous Importance.

You cannot hope for anything like contentment so long as you continue to attach that ridiculous degree of importance to the events of this life, which so many people are inclined to do.—Arthur Helps.

What Birthmarks Indicate.

According to a French scientist, birthmarks in families not now of good social position indicate that they are of knightly descent, the marks being due to the fact that their possessors' ancestors wore armor.

Daysman an Arbitrator.

A daysman is an arbitrator, umpire or judge. The term is of Anglo-Saxon origin and is still used in the northern part of England to describe an unofficial judge or arbitrator to whom a matter in dispute is referred. The origin of the term is obscure.

Remedies for Cholera.

Old-fashioned Turkish physicians have plenty of remedies for cholera. An eagle in the pocket and a bracelet worn near the neck are much esteemed, but the bone of a dead child carried in the pocket is regarded as nearly as efficacious.

Two Causes of "Eye Spots."

Spots before the eyes are of two kinds, namely floating and stationary. The former is a normal effect from natural imperfections of the eye, more noticeable in case of digestive disturbances. The stationary spots are a symptom of catarrh or spasm of the crystalline lens.

Wood Alcohol Always Injurious.

Wood alcohol may cause blindness not only when taken as a beverage but by absorption through the skin. In the case of the use of such articles as hair tonics containing the poison, it may also produce the same effect by way of lungs when inhaled from vapors, etc.

Milch Goats in America.

Six thousand goats are listed in the American milch goat registry. Three breeds are recognized. The Toggenburgs were originally imported from the valley of that name in Switzerland. They are distinguished by exact brown and white markings, especially about the head. Sannen goats hail from the Sannen valley, Switzerland, and are pure white. The Anglo-Nubian goats are a cross between the common English goat and the Nubians of Africa. They are a spotted variety and vary in color.

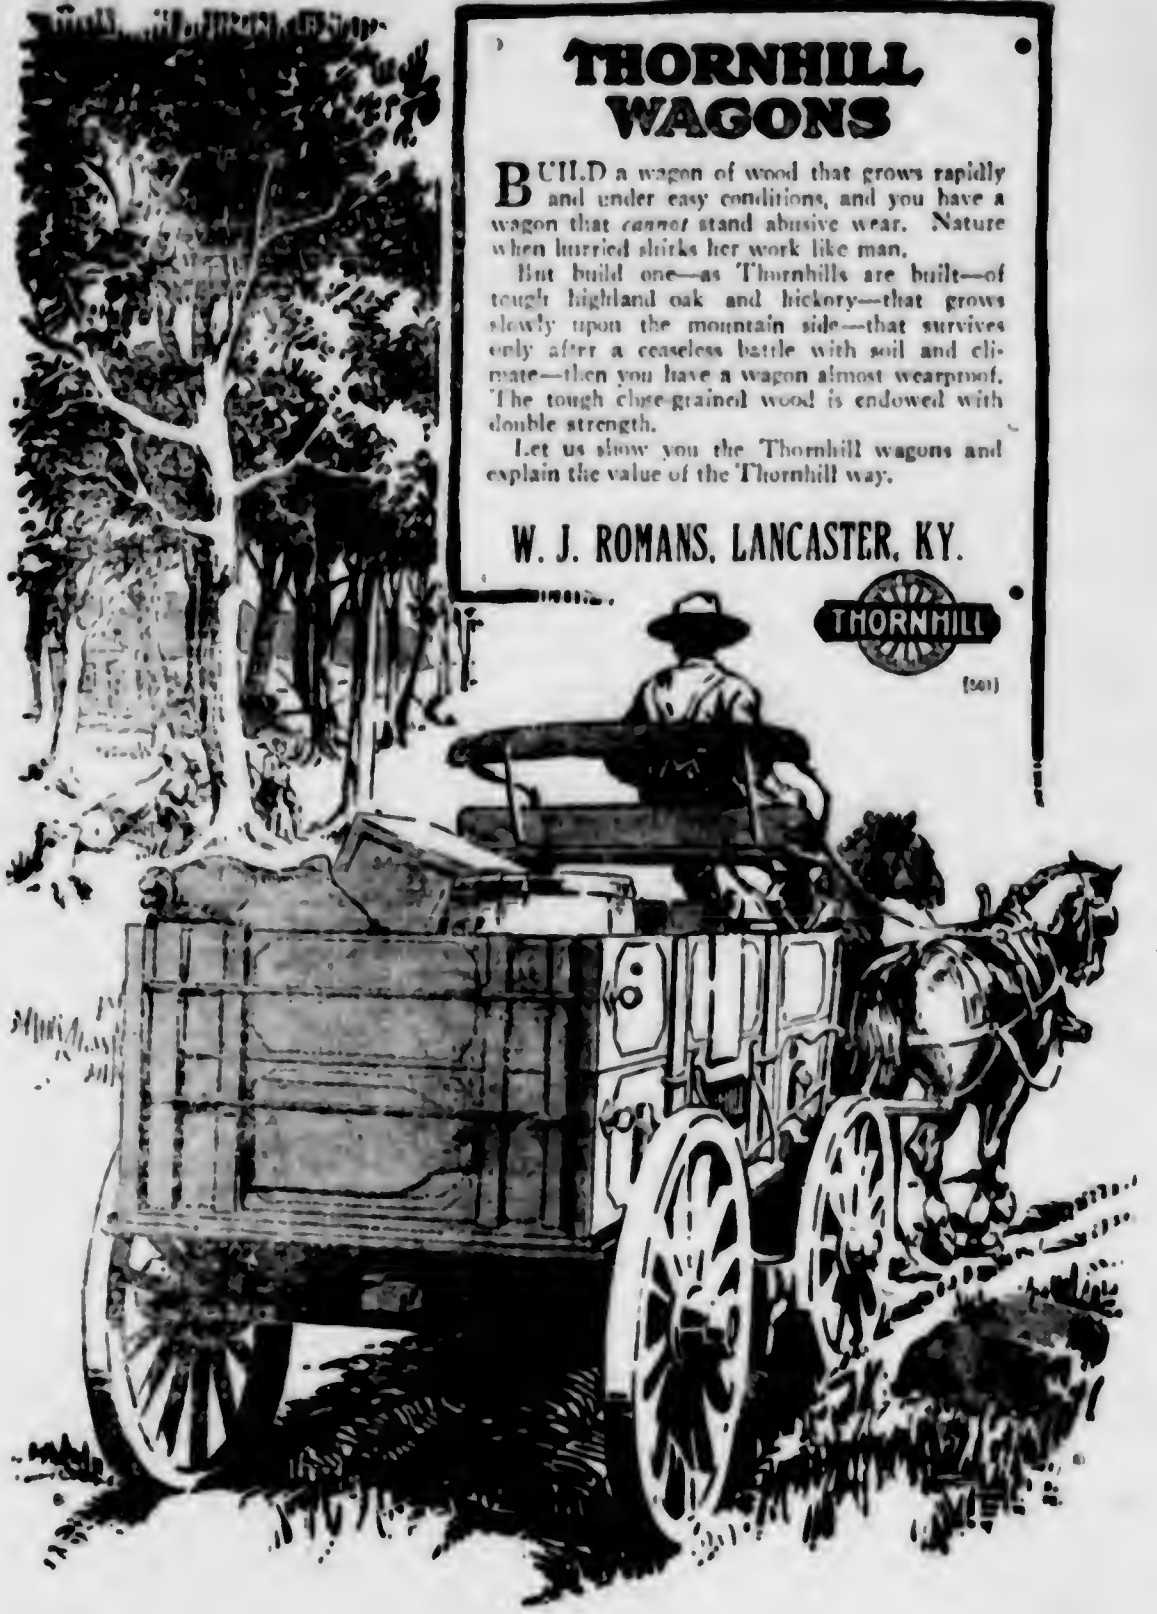

THORNHILL WAGONS

BUILD a wagon of wood that grows rapidly and under easy conditions, and you have a wagon that cannot stand abusive wear. Nature when hurried shirks her work like man.

But build one—as Thornhills are built—of tough highland oak and hickory—that survives slowly upon the mountain side—that survives only after a ceaseless battle with soil and climate—then you have a wagon almost wearproof. The tough close-grained wood is endowed with double strength.

Let us show you the Thornhill wagons and explain the value of the Thornhill way.

City Could Use More Cats.

It is estimated that there are in Paris 200,000 cats. The "effluent cats," which keep the museums and offices free of rats and mice cost the state $1 a head a year for upkeep, so that if the private cats cost an equal amount the total would be about $750,000 a year, says the London Mail. But judging by the number of cats one sees in the streets of Paris before dawn, feeding from the refuse boxes, several thousand more cats would be a good investment, for the amount of damage done by rats must be enormous.

Stepladders.

To keep the stepladder from slipping on either a polished floor or on oilcloth, put pieces of adhesive plaster on the feet of the ladder. This holds it steady and protects the floor from scratches.

Ocean Is Norway's Highway.

Norway's small number of automobiles would be larger if its 2,500,000 people were not stretched out along some 2,000 miles of seacoast. The ocean is the ordinary highway between different parts of the country.

Cement-Coated Nails.

Approximately one-tenth of the wire nails manufactured are now cement coated, according to H. A. Knight, who writes on the subject in the Iron Age (New York). The nails are coated by sinking them up in a hot tumbling barrel with a compound consisting mainly of resin, from which they issue with a thin, tough coating which greatly increases their holding power. The friction of the driven nail with the wood melts the cement and forms a glue, which makes fast the nail.—Literary Digest.

FARM STOCK

CLUB WORK PAYS BOYS WELL

Many California Members Repaid Loans for Purebred Animals Out of First Litters.

Agricultural club boys in Eldorado county, Calif., borrowed $502 in March, 1919, from local banks to start their pig club projects. In August, 1919, an inventory showed that these boys owned or had sold $5,826.25 worth of swine. Eight gilts, exhibited by the Eldorado boys at the State fair brought an average price of $26.50. They were from the first litter out of the original sows.

Owing to the high prices of pork last year, 68 per cent of the 1919 enrollment in the California agricultural clubs went into either the sow and litter or the pig feeding contests. Many club members in the State paid high prices with borrowed money for purebred animals, and in most cases have more than repaid the loans out of the first litters, says the United States department of agriculture.

Occasionally the purebred pig clubs in California have found difficulty in securing adequate prices for the stock they raise. To eliminate this trouble they have resorted to the means used by other purebred breeders, and have organized auction sales. Two were held in the past year, one at Lemoore, Kings county, and one in Fresno county. At Lemoore 38 animals brought a total of $2,751, or an average of about $72 a head, which is about the market price for purebred animals in California. In Fresno county 20 head of purebred Poland-Chinas brought a total of $981.50, or an average price of $49.07.

TREATING PIGS FOR WORMS

Sanitary Cement Wallow Should Be Provided and Oil or Dip Added to Kill Vermin.

Before starting spring pigs on summer feed, the entire lot should be treated for worms unless the owner is certain that the premises are clear. Santonin or American wormseed oil treatments are good.

Hogs should have a sanitary cement or frame wallow. Into the water should be put some crude oil or a dip to destroy lice, keep the skin in good condition, and promote gains.

A maximum use of pasture is desirable. If present pastures are poor or insufficient they may be supplemented with rape. A good rape pasture should carry 20 pigs to the acre for the season, according to H. O. Ashby of the Minnesota station.

Wherever pigs are given a full feed of grain the self-feeder should be used to save labor. Corn should be supplemented with a feed rich in protein.

The hogs should hog-off enough corn to finish them for the market, unless they are to be put behind cattle.

SHEEP AS SOURCE OF PROFIT

Close-Grazing Animals Will Thrive on Short Grass and Rough Land—Worthy of Trial.

Sheep would be a source of profit on many farms where they have not been given attention. They are close-grazing animals and as such will thrive on short grass and rough land where other animals would find it difficult to live. Why not get a few sheep and give them a chance on your farm?

EARLY PIGS REQUIRE GRAIN

Young Animals Cannot Be Expected to Get Heavy Enough for Market From Cornfield.

Pigs farrowed in late April, May and June can be fed on the same general plan but cannot be expected to get heavy enough to be marketed to the best advantage from the cornfield, but will require grain feeding up to late December or January at least before they will be heavy enough.

Aberdeen-Angus Sale

42 Head Top Notcher Highly Bred 42 Head
Bulls, Cows and Heifers

TO BE SOLD ON OUR NEW FARM, 2 MILES FROM DANVILLE, ON THE PERRYVILLE PIKE, DANVILLE, KENTUCKY,

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16th 1920

PROPERTY OF A. D. AND WALKER BRADSHAW, LANCASTER, KENTUCKY.

You will find this an extraordinary offering of Angus Cattle. There will be very few offerings of Angus Cattle made this season that will equal this offering. They have the OUTSTANDING INDIVIDUALITY and their blood lines are MOST WONDERFUL. Only the most fashionable and the most valuable families are listed for this GREATEST ANGUS EVENT.

BLACK CAPS, BLACKBIRDS, TROJAN, ERICA, PRIDES OF ABERDEEN, K. PRIDES AND QUEEN MOTHERS, LADY IDA, ETC.

Every animal in this offering is absolutely guaranteed to be right. Only six bulls have been catalogued for this GREAT offering. Everyone will stand the most rigid examination. Their individuality is most pleasing and their bloodlines are unquestionable. Each and every one has much to recommend him to the breeder who is looking for a TOP-NOTCHER herd bull. Ages that are most useful—15 to 18 months old. Fresh from first hands. There is scarcely a breeder in the land that would not be proud of one of these HIGH CLASS bulls at the head of his herd.

The 36 cows and heifers listed in this extraordinary event are what one would pronounce MOST EXTRAORDINARY. Most of the cows have calves at foot or close to calving, to the services of Black Cap Royalty which is closely related to the $45,000. grand champion Black Cap Bertram, the breed's greatest bull ever produced.

The cows and heifers in this greatest of all Angus doings, for individuality, bloodlines, usefulness and superior value are unexcelled. They are teeming in the blood of the greatest sires the breed has ever produced. You will find the condition of these cows and heifers the most perfect for profitable money-makers. You will find show-yard prospects among the cows, two year old yearlings and suckling calves. There has never been such an opportunity for the established breeder to make choice selections to strengthen his herd, and the beginner surely has the chance of his life to get a way on the right foot in founding a new herd.

Do not overlook the fact that you have breeders behind these cattle whose word is as good as a gold bond, and you can assure yourself a square deal.

June 16th promises the greatest event ever taken place in Angus circles South of Dixie. By all means arrange to see this EXTRAORDINARY offering.

Protests Advance

In Tobacco Price.

(By Associated Press)
Washington. —Members of the Tobacco Merchants Association of the United States, in convention here, were assured recently by President Eilenshoer of Philadelphia, that tobacco and liquor would not be buried in the grave. He said not the slightest use of tobacco would be prohibited. The speaker protested against increase in tobacco taxes, declaring it would not bring heavier returns, because the consumption would decrease as a result of increased prices. He said that retail prices were already 75 per cent higher than at the outbreak of the war.

Your Liberty Bond.

The United States Government borrowed money from you to finance the war. You hold the Government's promise to pay you back. This promise is called a Liberty Bond or Victory Note. On this Bond is stated the conditions under which the Government borrowed the money from you.

For instance: If you hold a Bond of the Third Liberty Loan, it states that on April 15th and October 15th of each year until maturity, you will receive interest on the amount you paid for the Bond. Other issues bear other rates of interest and other maturity dates, all of which are clearly stated on the Bond.

Now, if you keep your Bond until the date when the Government pays you in full for it, you do not need to worry if, in the meantime, the price is low one day or high the next. You and Uncle Sam are living up to your agreement with each other, and neither will lose by it.

On the other hand, if you sell your Liberty Bond now, you will find that the man you sell it to will not give you a dollar for every dollar you paid for it. The price has been brought down because so many people are offering to sell their Bonds. If the market is flooded with tomatoes, you can buy them cheap, but if everybody is clamoring for tomatoes and there are few to be had, the price goes up. The same is true of Liberty Bonds. Short-sighted people are dumping them on the market, and wise ones are buying them.

The best advice that can be given to the owner of a Liberty Bond is this: Hold the bond you bought during the war; it is as safe and sound as the United States Government itself.

Buy as many more at the present low rate as you can afford. If you hold them to maturity, you are bound to make the difference between what they sell at now and their face value. You will also receive good interest on your investment.

Hold on to your Liberty Bonds and buy more.

Located on good pike, one mile from thriving little town of McKinney with its graded school, fine churches, bank, stores, mill, shipping point on Southern Railway and splendid citizenship.

The improvements consist of elegant 1 1-2 story residence of five rooms below and three above, three porches, good cellar, etc. Extra large stock barn, containing 50 stalls. Tobacco barn 96x60 and all necessary outbuildings; orchard; well watered; well at house, springs, etc.

Beautiful shade and approach to this choice home. All of this farm lies exceedingly well and all of it good tobacco, corn, etc. land. All in grass except eight acres for tobacco and 25 acres for corn this year; 20 acres in wheat; 15 acres in oats and all sown to grass with splendid stand; 35 acres in meadow and 12 acres in blue grass sod.

IMMEDIATE POSSESSION:—On account of Mr. Ware's health he will not be able to look after farming any longer. And he is game enough to take what it will bring. It will be an ABSOLUTE SALE FOR THE HIGH DOLLAR without reserve, by-bid or limit. The price is off. YOU say what it is worth. We simply suggest the terms. There has been more stuff fed on this farm than on any three farms of its size in the county. She is a PEACH, boys. Rich and fertile, ready to Punch and get big returns.

The wise man looks at land and buys it before the other fellow realizes its value. We invite the closest inspection. Look it over carefully before sale day. The more you look the more you will bid.

It is the right size farm, splendidly improved, in fine neighborhood, fine dirt. The personal property consists of one pair splendid work mules; two pairs splendid yearling mules; two mares and mule colts as good as anybody's; one 4-year-old Peavine gelding, well broke; one good mule jack; one jennet and jennet colt; six good milk cows, all fresh; two yearling steers; 15 nice shoats, weight about 100 pounds; about 100 barrels picked corn in quantities to suit purchaser; some baled hay and straw; one John Deere binder, new; two mowing machines and other farming tools too numerous to mention; also lot of household and kitchen furniture.

An ideal home, close to school, churches, railroad, etc. You will be proud to call it your own. If it rains on sale day the sale will be held in the immense barn. Remember the day and hour—WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2nd, at 10 A. M., and be on hand promptly.

Dinner on the grounds. Terms exceedingly liberal and made known on day of sale. For full particulars, see, write or phone either F. M. Ware or R. S. Scudder at McKinney, Ky., or

AND PERSONALTY, AT 10 A. M., ON

Wednesday, June 2, 1920

We will sell the R. H. C. Mitchell Land Estate, Containing Eleven Hundred Acres

Which has been in the hands of the Mitchells something like one hundred years. Said land is located in Boyle County, lies on both sides of the Lebanon and Danville turnpike, eight miles from Danville. Part of it lying almost within the city limits of Mitchellsburg. The Mitchell homeplace has about three hundred acres which has been divided into three tracts. One tract containing 135 acres. This tract has a nice two story frame dwelling and extra good repair with nice shade trees, and is one of the most beautiful locations in the county. Is an ideal country home, good stock barn, tobacco barn, and other necessary buildings. This is fine land and will grow tobacco, wheat, corn and all other crops. Tract number two, contains 76 acres, has tenant house and good pike frontage. Plenty of water and a nice building site. Tract number 3 contains 91 acres, has a good long pike frontage and plenty of old blue grass sod. This farm contains twelve other tracts, with fine timber. The most of which has pike frontage. The said tracts contain 15 to 100 acres each, and will be sold in separate tracts to suit purchaser. The most of this land is virgin soil, there being lots of very fine timber on said land.

Don't fail to look this land over before the sale. This property will be sold to settle up the estate, and will sell for the High Dollar without reserve or limit.

TERMS ARE LIBERAL AND WILL BE MADE KNOWN ON DAY OF SALE.

Outdoor Program Planned By Boy Scouts.

May 30th to June 6th To Be Boy Scout Week.

Throughout the United States, the week of May 30th to June 6th will be observed as Boy Scout Week, with a program of outdoor activities participated in by the half a million Scouts and Scout Officials who compose the 17,000 local troops of the Boy Scouts of America.

The program of the week will be opened Sunday, May 30th, in the churches of the county, talks being made in churches of all denominations on the merits of Scouting in helping the boyhood of the community. In many instances Boy Scouts will make four minute addresses and will otherwise participate in the program.

Scouts to Promote Overnight Hikes Friday, June 4th, will be known as Overnight Hike Day, and it is expected at least two hundred thousand Boy Scouts will spend the night in the woods, and in many communities plans have been made to invite fathers of Scouts on the Overnight Hikes.

National Scout Field Day is planned for Saturday, June 5th, with competition in tent pitching, fire building, wall scaling, signalling, trek-cart demonstrations, tower and bridge building and first aid and life saving work, Scout games, etc. Camp cookery with free samples of miniature flap-jacks will be a feature of the Field Day program.

Demonstrations of all Scouting activities will be held during the week throughout the country in communities where scout troops exist in order to show the work done by the Scouts. This will include life saving, safety-first, clean-up and good health campaigns and various other activities for which the Boy Scouts are noted.

"To Stimulate Extension" Says Chief Scout Executive

"The outstanding purpose of Boy Scout Week is to stimulate interest in Scouting so as to reach a large proportion of the Nation's boyhood," said James E. West, Chief Scout Executive for which the Boy Scouts

ica. "We want to project the light of public attention on the Boy Scouts of America as a movement which has grown to be the largest of its kind the world has ever known, a brotherhood of organized boyhood which builds solidly for the future, which prepares the young of today for the responsibilities of citizenship tomorrow."

STORMES DRUG STORE

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten," to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over.

I find myself, at intervals, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the laxative and cathartic on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user; which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper or small intestine, while others would act only on the lower or large intestine, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first loosen the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual annoying sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Dr. Lewis' Compound, which I truly believe goes further and does more than any laxative on the market today. The thousands of letters from users have convinced me I was right, and that the user of Dr. Lewis' Compound as a family medicine, even though he may have used it for twenty-five years, never has to increase the dose.

My knowledge of medicine and the results of its use in my own family and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to have great faith in Dr. Lewis' Compound from the very first.

And now as I find myself nearing the age when I must bow to the inevitable and go to another life, my greatest pleasure is to sit each day and read the letters that each mail brings from people as old or older than I, who tell of having used Dr. Lewis' Compound for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefited by it. It is a comforting thought, my friends, for a man at my age to feel that aside from his own success, one has done something for his fellow man. My greatest satisfaction, my greatest happiness today, is the knowledge that tonight more than one million people will take a Dr. Lewis' Compound (No Tablets) and will be better, happier, keener people for it. I hope you will be one of them.

ST. ALBAN'S BELLS

By ELEANOR R. JOHNSON.

Among the sunny cities, towns and villages scattered over the world there is not one which does not have some particular characteristic, some custom which makes it apart from all others. It is the little village of St. Albans, situated among the broad, sloping hills of New England, which will perhaps bring out this spirit most clearly, for about its quaint custom the romance of Anne Bryce and John Cameron is woven.

On the slope behind St. Albans stands a small church, and by its doorway one may read a bronze tablet stating that in 1925 the church was erected by a certain Charles Longworth in memory of his son, who died for the Northern cause in 1901. As the old sexton comes up on his tour of work and inspection he will tell you that whenever any festivity takes place in the village it was the wish of the founder that the bells in the ivy-covered tower be rung.

Many times the bells had pealed forth while white-clad brides had slipped elusively away with their husbands, and it was on such an occasion when the minister's son had been married that Anne Bryce and John Cameron were sitting on a grassy knoll overlooking the village.

"The Klondike calls me tomorrow, Anne," he said gently. Then looking toward the Northwest, "What a land of promise! What shall I not be able to do for you when I return! And then it will be but a year or so before I am back again!"

"But a year or so," Anne murmured. "But, perhaps the next time the bells of St. Albans ring it will be for you and me, Anne."

The sun was setting. They rose and walked slowly down the village.

The next morning John Cameron, departed for the Klondike, and, as the train slowly drew out from the station, Anne waved a good-bye with her handkerchief, then quickly rubbing her eyes she went home to wait "for a year or so."

Three years had passed, and Anne Bryce's pretty little cottage seemed to reflect the very atmosphere of the July day. The front gate creaked, and a tall, good-natured looking man stalked up the path. Anne was sitting on the piazza shelling peas.

"Mornin', thought I'd come to talk a little bit, do you mind, Anne?" "Oh, Joe, of course I don't mind. Sit down."

Joe stretched his long legs the length of the steps, ate two or three green peas and then asked:

"Heard anything from John? When's he coming or isn't he coming at all?" She sighed. "I'm waiting, Joe. I haven't heard anything about him since he left, except that one letter he wrote just before he got to Alaska; but I believe he is safe, and I will always keep to my promise that I'd be here when he came home!"

"Umph! Anne, if he doesn't come back pretty soon do you think you could ever look my way?"

"No, I'm sorry, Joe, but I said I would wait, and the bells of St. Albans haven't rung since he went away. He hoped they would ring for us when he returned, and I know they will." And she set the dish of shelled peas down with a thud as if to emphasize her determination. Joe arose awkwardly.

"Well, I must be a-goin'; perhaps you may consider my proposal some time, Anne." And he sauntered off disappointed.

"If I didn't have any more to do than to sit on folks' doorsteps and propose I declare I would!" Anne exclaimed as she bustled about in the kitchen, and then stopped short and turned around for she saw a shadow fall across the doorway.

A very different sort of man stood before her now; pale, tired and haggard looking, his face partly covered by a long beard, while his hair was streaked with gray. For a moment Anne looked startled, then with a little cry she fairly flew to him.

"John, I waited oh, so long, but you are here now. It all seems too good to be true!"

"Yes—Anne, here I am. I haven't brought back what I hoped I could, goodness knows, but, in spite of that, perhaps—and as he looked down into her face—"Yes, surely the bells of St. Albans will ring for us as they never have rung before!"

A Fair Exchange.

They met in front of the News office—a young woman and a man of uncertain age. "Why are you out so early?" he asked. "When I called up your house at nine o'clock they said that you were already downtown, and I—"

"Well, there was a dress sale," began the young woman, "and I had to come downtown early to get a bargain. I got one, too—a $87 dress for $25."

"Well, you've nothing on me," responded the man. "I bought a new suit myself this morning. Only the tables were turned with me—I got a $25 suit for $87."—Indianapolis News.

LOOK OUT

ON

Saturday, May 29th,

I will sell the WALKER AND A. D. BRADSHAW FARM, near McCreary in Garrard county, consisting of about 300 ACRES of as good land as there is in the United States.

SANDSTONE: that means BURLEY, CORN, CLOVER, HOGS AND CATTLE. This land has not been punished, but is ready to bring a reward. Is this true? Go and See.

THREE FARMS DIVIDED TO SUIT THE PURCHASER

All in a group known as the "Tunee" Bradshaw farm, the John Harrison Posey and the Sam Boone Lear farm.

Now if any buyer will indicate, how he wants it cut, I will offer it that way and see if he wants it. On these farms are located three splendid residences, five good tobacco barns, stock scales, Silo's and all necessary outbuildings. Lots of fruit, school house, within a stones throw of all of them. Children can go to school and come home for dinner. On County road from McCreary to Nina. Will have Rural Route, when the citizens get behind it and ask for it.

It is safe to say with the exercise of a small amount of diligence a pike will run through it in twelve months. What makes you think a pike will run through it? I sold the Gibbs farm on the same ridge, eight months ago and told you I believed a mile of pike would be built through this, going toward the Bradshaw land. You see the money has been made up, don't you? You see the advertisement in the Record for bidders to construct it, don't you?

Some frost bitten bull yearlings, said it would not be done, when it was announced at the Gibbs sale. The money is ready that will build the road, mistaken were they not?

I will show to the bidders on the day of sale, the list of the subscribers, to run from the Bradshaw land to connect with the Gibbs pike and when this pike is run, you will see the most desirable as well as the most fertile land in the county, that may not bring over $300.00 an acre, on day of sale, that will be richly worth $400.00 when the pike is constructed.

Can you afford to buy where you can make any crop, and then 25 per cent on your investment? Ask your mother-in-law, she will tell you no; ask some old man, he will tell you "not to buy, land is going down", and they are the kind that belong in the hearse. Ask the fellow who is in the procession, the man who is getting by; look back twenty-five years and see if the man who has bought, is not in the procession today. The small man will get to be a big man, when he raises "his sights"; the tenant will be a landlord.

If you would rather pay $400.00 rent on land per acre, and remain a tenant, go and do it. If you have any money to make your payment, TERMS WILL BE EASY. USE YOUR CREDIT. WHAT DO YOU WANT WITH A CREDIT IF YOU DON'T USE IT.

Don't ask any body's advice, you had as well been born an idiot, if some one else must do your thinking. Figure this out your self BEFORE SATURDAY MAY 29th.

You small fellows, get out of the horse collar, where you learned to sit alone, AND WALK WITH MEN AND BE A MAN. BUY LAND, KEEP YOUR BOYS AT HOME. THEY WILL LEAVE YOU AND SHOULD DO IT, IF YOU DON'T GIVE THEM A CHANCE.

BUY OR HELP THEM TO BUY.

Get out of your old heads, that it is the boys pig, but Pap's hog; its the boys colt, but Pap's horse; its the boys calf, but Pap's steer. Stick to your boys, give them a chance, they will pull together. Remember there is Strength in Union, Danger in Discord.

COME EARLY, SALE BEGINS AT 10.30. BRASS BAND.

Will have soup if I can get some one to make it. Walk in on your own legs, stand on them when you get there.

$10.00 IN GOLD WILL BE GIVEN THE BEST LOOKING LADY ON THE GROUND UNDER 75 YEARS OLD.

COME, COME, COME.

BIG REDUCTION IN CHOLERA

Decrease in Swine Loss of 72 Per Cent Noted in Six Counties in North Carolina.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

An example of the benefit which may come to a community from the well-directed efforts of state and federal agencies, coupled with the co-operation of farmers, for the control of hog cholera is shown in a recent report of a veterinary inspector of the bureau of animal industry.

Hog cholera control work was inaugurated in six counties in the north-eastern section of North Carolina August 1, 1918. An intensive campaign was carried on for a period of 14 months. It included investigation of reported outbreaks, demonstrations in the use of serum and virus, and the disinfection of premises. As the services of practicing veterinarians were not available, a number of laymen were trained in the administration of the serum treatment for cholera. After that period of intensive activities the work was withdrawn to another section of the state, only general supervision being given to the original area.

During October a survey was made of the counties comprising the district in question, and a questionnaire was submitted to as many of the farmers as could be reached. Answers received and tabulated indicate that there has been a reduction in losses from cholera of over 72 per cent, and an increase of over 100 per cent in swine production, due to the protection offered by the immunization of the animals. There has also been a marked improvement in the type of this class of animals, due to the knowledge that it is possible to raise more and better hogs without danger of having them destroyed by cholera.

BRONCHITIS IN LITTLE PIGS

Not Much Can Be Done in Way of Treatment—Damp, Cold Pens Are Cause of Trouble.

Bronchitis most commonly occurs in young pigs. Matured hogs are seldom troubled with it. If it attacks very young pigs it often proves fatal, but pigs two or three months old will generally survive, though their growth may be seriously interfered with. The disease is accompanied by a distressing cough, which usually disappears with the advent of warm weather and outdoor exercise. Little can be done in the way of treatment. Dry pens free from drafts, nourishing feed and as much exercise as possible are the principal points to be observed. Damp, cold pens are the most common cause of this trouble.

MORE HOGS ARE NEEDED NOW

Every Farmer Must Put Forth Best Endeavors to Produce More Pork This Season.

If we expect to continue to provide meat to foreign peoples as well as our own people, every farmer must put forth his best effort to produce more hogs. Hogs can be kept profitably upon many farms where they are not found today. Farmers who already produce hogs can produce more, for there is not much chance of producing meat this year in excess of the requirements.

FEED LIVE STOCK LIBERALLY

Farmer Should Make It a Rule to Keep No More Animals Than He Can Feed Well.

Make it a golden rule to keep no more stock on the farm than you have enough feed to supply liberally. Sell off the others, even though it seems a sacrifice. For there is no sacrifice equal to that which comes from starved live stock.

2 Splendid Farms

THE N. A. RAWLINGS FARM & J. A. BANDY FARM

AT

ON THE SAME DAY

Tuesday, June 8th,

THE RAWLINGS FARM AT 10 O'CLOCK, A. M.

THE BANDY FARM AT TWO O'CLOCK, P. M.

THE RAWLINGS FARM—149 Acres in Casey County, on Caney Creek. Gravel Switch and Rolling Fork Pike, 4 miles South of Gravel Switch. Everybody knows the productiveness of Rolling Fork land. Four room cottage, 4 room tenant house, stock barn, tobacco barn, concrete milk house, all out buildings with each house. Young orchard of 50 trees. Straw berries and other small fruits. 2½ acres in tobacco, 18 acres in corn, balance grass and hardwood timber. Well watered and fenced.

Will be sold without reserve, by-bid or limit. AN ABSOLUTE SALE. Remember the time, 10 o'clock.

THE BANDY FARM—150 acres in Marion County near Aliceton, one quarter mile North of Danville and Lebanon Pike, between Broomfield and Gravel Switch. This is tobacco land, sandstone land; gives the color and weight to tobacco. 7 room frame dwelling, good stock and tobacco barn combined, all necessary out-buildings. Tobacco on this farm last year averaged ninety-two cents. 5 acres in tobacco, 15 acres in corn, 10 acres for oats, 10 acres in meadow, balance in grass and timothy. Accessible to Perryville High School.

BOTH OF THESE FARMS WILL BE SOLD ON EASY TERMS, AND FOR POSSESSION JANUARY 1, 1921.

Now is the time to buy. You will pay more later. Land will continue to increase in value. The man who buys either of these farms is sure to sell at a profit before he has to pay for them.

Remember Swinebroad is the only real estate man who universally advertises no by-bid, and he ALWAYS SELLS just as advertised. Look over these farms before the sale. Remember the TIME and the DATE. The Rawlings Farm will be sold at 10 O'CLOCK PROMPT. AFTER the Rawlings sale we will go to the Bandy Farm and sell the BANDY FARM AT TWO O'CLOCK.

Both of these farms are in good neighborhoods close to schools and churches, and will make any one a desirable home. They are money makers. Don't overlook these sales.

The Supremacy of Stamina

More than a year's abuse in seven days and not a flaw

STAMINA! 5,452 miles in a week. 32½ miles per hour, elapsed time. Continuous day and night driving on country roads, rough and frozen. This remarkable record made by Overland at Indianapolis is just another proof of Overland Serviceability and the extraordinary riding qualities of Triplex Springs.

The gasoline record at 32½ miles per hour was 20.24 miles per gallon
